

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 2004

■ Girl Power — Members of Girls Incorporated of the Island City flew to Hollywood this week to mingle with celebrities and celebrate the accomplishments of women in the media.

Attendees included Angelina Chavez, Haley Summerfield, Porsche Kelly, Natasha and Jasmine Walls along with staff members Pam Williams, Tristen Fredrickson and Romy Amos.

At GIIC, girls are inspired to be strong, smart and bold to grow to be successful adults, through innovative programs, activities and advocacy.

Honored at this year's event were: Donna Mitroff, an adjunct professor at USC, for her work in the fields of child development and television production; Holly Robinson Peete, an actress and philanthropist who, with her husband, NFL quarterback Rodney Peete, founded the HollyRod Foundation to improve families' access to treatment for Parkinson's Disease; Robin Schwartz, president of Regency Television, who is responsible for all current series and future development; and Cyma Zarghami, president of Nickelodeon Television, where she has worked on projects such as Dora the Explorer and SpongeBob Squarepants.

To become a member or get more information, check out their Web site at www.girlsincislandcity.org.